Music you'll love played by musicians you need to hear

Dear Friends,

Music you'll love played by musicians you need to hear.
This is our 45th Anniversary Season promise to you.

So many exciting seasons of debuts and discoveries have come and gone, and we are still having the time of our lives bringing the very best musicians from around the globe to perform on stage right here in Vancouver.

The VRS' reputation is built upon finding the next generation of great musicians and bringing them to Vancouver before the rest of the musical world wakes up! Maxim Vengerov, Lang Lang, Joshua Bell, Yuja Wang, and Sheku Kanneh-Mason all performed on our stage as young, unknown artists before they went on to take the music world by storm.

We stand out because we dare. We take chances in booking and presenting young, up-and-coming artists whose names may not yet be familiar to you, but whose talents we think you must experience. Year after year, those musicians deliver on our promises! And, best of all, over the decades we have built an audience which has come along for the ride, and continues to take leaps of faith by trusting our choices. We are so grateful.

As you scroll through these pages, look for amazing discounts (up to 25% off!). We have made the process very simple: the more you buy, the more you save! Click on links to the YouTube videos we have selected, as well as links to the ticket-buying and support pages on our website. Most importantly, book your tickets as early as you can to get the best seats at the lowest prices.

We look forward to sharing some truly great performances with you!

Schaghajegh first appeared on our radar through Sir Andrés Schiff, her mentor and frequent artistic partner. She made her international breakthrough in 2014 as an award winner in the International Bach Competition in Leipzig. In 2018, she made her Canadian debut at the VRS playing Bach's Goldberg Variations. We quickly rebooked her for our 2020-21 Season, but the pandemic scuppered those plans. We're delighted that Schaghajegh is returning to our stage with an intriguing program.

“The Rach 3 heard round the world” was how it was described when 18-year-old South Korean pianist Yunchan Lim astonished listeners with his rendition of Rachmaninov’s Piano Concerto No. 3 at the 2022 Van Cliburn International Piano Competition. His breathtaking performances at the Cliburn secured his place as the youngest person ever to take home the gold medal, and a star was born. He was dubbed an “immediate sensation” by The New York Times, and the official video of that Rach 3 performance has since garnered over 14 million views on YouTube. Moments after his victory, Lim revealed that the next piece he intended to learn for performance was J. S. Bach’s Goldberg Variations. He has made good on that promise, and we’re thrilled to present him in his Vancouver debut playing Bach’s crowning keyboard achievement.

Be part of something special. Support the VRS!

It's hard to believe that we are at the 45-season mark! We are delighted to reach yet another milestone. Over the last four and a half decades, the VRS has grown from its humble beginnings as a kitchen table endeavour into one of the most unique and bold music series — known not just in Canada, but around the world. Through the years, our commitment to our core value of presenting the best musical talent and rising young artists has never wavered. And with a staggeringly talented crop of exciting young musicians to present, both in this new season and in seasons to come, we continue to make our mark.

Our activities extend well beyond the concert hall.

Each season, we present artists in youth-focused events like Music for Munchkins, Classics for Kids, and workshops at local schools.

Throughout the years, we've hosted concert/lectures and special series, participated in commissioning new works, brought unique artists together for once-in-a-lifetime performances, and, on occasion, started partnerships between artists that endure to this day.

We've always known this, but the pandemic reinforced the importance of staying connected. Created to help foster and continue connection during those years at home, Virtually VRS performances, which we share on YouTube, train the spotlight on emerging artists from around the world. In a similar vein, Beyond the Concert Hall video interviews feature musicians, managers and others working in creative fields around us. And both initiatives continue in our post-pandemic life, helping to keep us connected to our friends throughout the Lower Mainland and beyond, and to those members of the VRS family who, for a variety of reasons, can no longer attend in-person performances.

All of these efforts are provided free of charge to participants thanks to you and your support.
