

VANCOUVER RECITAL SOCIETY
SALUTES GOETHE-INSTITUT VANCOUVER'S
TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Vancouver Recital Society congratulates the Goethe-Institut Vancouver on a productive and exciting ten years in Canada. On their tenth anniversary, we celebrate the many significant contributions they have made to the cultural and intellectual life of not only Vancouver, but all of Western Canada.

Establishing its presence in Vancouver ten years ago in October of 1983, the Goethe-Institut has been both a consistent and enthusiastic partner of the city's most important cultural groups and institutions. They include among others, the five major universities in the area, Vancouver Recital Society, Early Music Vancouver, Vancouver New Music, Pacific Cinémathèque, Coastal Jazz and Blues Society, and in Alberta, the Banff Centre for the Arts.

The Vancouver Recital Society is most grateful to the Goethe-Institut for its past sponsorship of the successful 1991 recital by the acclaimed young German violinist Christian Tetzlaff and is delighted that, as part of their tenth anniversary celebration, the Goethe-Institut is co-presenting this evening's recital by the German pianist Lars Vogt. The VRS hopes for continued co-operation with the Goethe-Institut in the years to come, and extending our warmest congratulations, we look forward to celebrating many future Goethe-Institut anniversaries.
